Give Thanks at the Jacksonville Zoo and Gardens Zoo Open Thanksgiving Day and Final Weekend of Kids Free November

November 20, 2017-- Jacksonville, FL – Jacksonville Zoo and Gardens (JZG) will be open regular hours, 9am – 5pm, on Thanksgiving Thursday and Friday, November 25. The Zoo is committed to giving the community a fun, family-focused activity over the holiday weekend.

With more than 2,000 animals calling the Zoo home, zoo keepers are accustomed to spending the Thanksgiving holiday with their furry, scaly and feathered extended family. The more than 1,000 plant species at the Zoo create a beautiful backdrop for families to walk off their Thanksgiving dinners or a perfect diversion while the turkey is in the oven.

Children 12 and under get free admission with a paying adult through the end of the month with the Kids Free November promotion.

Sure to delight guests on Thanksgiving Day are the giraffes who guests can feed a Thanksgiving treat to on the Giraffe Overlook, manatees Cassie and Buckeye who eat 10 percent of their body-weight per day in lettuce, or the tigers who are enjoying the cooler temperatures.
