

Bonobo The Lesser Known Ape

*Featuring Marian Brickner, renowned wildlife activist and
photographer*

Thursday, November 12th 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.
at Jacksonville Zoo and Gardens'
Pepsico Foundation Education Auditorium

While observing and photographing the bonobos at the Jacksonville Zoo and Gardens, Marian Brickner decided the best way for children to learn about bonobos was through the eyes of a baby bonobo: Jacksonville Zoo's Bonobo named "Lucy". Marian has photographed Lucy and her family for a period of years culminating in the recently published children's book, "I'm Lucy".

Join us for a presentation of Brickner's bonobo photography along with a Zoo expert panel including Sabrina Barnes and Nancy Kitchen that will lead discussion of bonobo natural history, behavior, management and conservation efforts.

A special "I'm Lucy, A Day in the Life of a Young Bonobo" book sale and signing by Marian Brickner will follow.
